PUBLIC RECREATION

According to the National Recreation Association's yearbook for 1949 Pennsylvania ranks first recreation programs. An independent survey made by the State Planning Board shows that by August of this year 623 communities were providing full or parttime recreation services to their people.

A generation ago the importance of public recreation as a community responsibility was very little appreciated even in the largest of American cities. Although the pressures of industrial life and the concentration of population in the downtown areas of our big cities was leading to serious problems of delinquency and social unrest, little thought had been given measures to combat these condi-

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Probably A Record! WASHINGTON, Sept. 7

AS THIS session of Congress enters its eighth month, the failure of the Truman Administration (but for one thing) approaches the colossal. If any President in the year immediately following his election and with his own party in full control of Congress ever had so unsuccessful a leadership his name cannot now be recalled.

NO PRESIDENT ever made so nany promises or fulfilled so few The Taft-Hartley Act has not been repealed and his civil-rights program has not been put through. His tax proposals, both those he made at the beginning and those he made later when he reversed his position, have been disregarded. His extremely radical farm program has flopped and his sociaization of medicine plan bogged down long ago. It was Senator Taft's housing bill and not Mr. Truman's that went through.

But Liah sprang on the back of CONGRESS has appropriated great mel, and sought to drive in onto extra for the veterans-which he so heavy that it caused the fish he has demanded. His talk about to sink and Liah had to swim to retrenchment has become a joke when weighed against the enormous Now one who listened (and plans for spending which he adtale hath no truth but is only an many special groups. Probably a security which the President is thou proved the ancient claim parties are for that. This record of failure is really unique-particularly when to it is added his inability to gain confirmation from the Democratic Senate of his close personal friend, ex-Gov. Mon Wallgren of Washington, who is still here, apparently waiting for a recess appointment of some kind.

ONE would think that in such a situation as this Mr. Truman would be discouraged. Certainly, most men would be; but, if he is, there are no visible signs. On the consentiment is strongly in favor of lows the direction in which his program A woman we know has hat would take the country and that if elect men who will follow him.

Franklin A. C. blanked Second Ward A. C., 4-0, last evening on Memorial Park field to win the first game of the final playoffs of the Bristol Suburban Softball League.

The largest crowd of the season saw "Jim" Brescia whitewash the Second Ward contingent with two hits and at the same time witnessed the fast fielding Franklin complete play after play with touching accuracy. The only error charged to the winners was when Bert Barbetta mistook the umpire for his first-baseman and threw the ball in his direction.

Although it made four tallies, the Franklin team had but two safe hits and were aided by two disastrous miscues on the part of the usually reliable "Rabbit" Palumbo. Palumbo committed his pair of errors in the fourth and fifth innings. the frames in which Franklin scored their markers.

The mis-plays spoiled a nice pitching performance by "Chick" Stansky. He also permitted two hits and had eight strikeouts to his credit. In the two innings that Franklin scored, it made but one hit.

One was away in the fourth when the trouble started Stansky could not get the ball over for Frank Barbetta and he walked. On a passed ball, Barbetta went to second. Oriola hit to Palumbo who tossed wild to first, scoring Barbetta and permitting Oriola to make second. Bert Barbetta flied out to right. After the catch, Oriola dashed for third and was rounding third when the throw reached the infield. He darted for the plate and also beat Pa- DODDS FINISHES lumbo's peg there to score a tally. #### PUBLIC RECREATION

According to the National Rec reation Association's yearbook for 1949 Pennsylvania ranks first in our nation in the number of its recreation programs. An independent survey made by the State Planning Board shows that by August of this year 623 communities were providing full or parttime recreation services to their

A generation ago the importance of public recreation as a community responsibility was very little appreciated even in the largest of American cities. Although the pressures of industrial life and the concentration of population in the downtown areas of our big cities was leading to serious problems of delinquency and social unrest, little thought had been given to the necessity of preventive measures to combat these conditions.

Often a few scattered parks with carefully tended lawns protected from trespassers were the only evidences of community care for the recreational needs of their people. The only playgrounds were the side yards of schools usable only at recess time and closed

Many forces have operated to arouse a deeper sense of responsibility. Chief among these have been the increasing danger of the highways for children at play, the rise of delinquency in closely crowded city neighborhoods, and the greatly increased leisure of our people. Proper provision of adequate public recreation has at last become a recognized form of social insurance. Cities with adequate playgrounds for their children, with programs for the constructive and pleasurable use of leisure time, through sports crafts, music and dramatics, now have a preferred position for both residence and industry.

By FRANK R. KENT

Probably A Record!

AS THIS session of Congress enters its eighth month, the failure of the Truman Administration (but for one thing) approaches the colossal. If any President in the year immediately following his election and with his own party in full control of Congress ever had so unsuccessful a leadership his name cannot now be recalled.

NO PRESIDENT ever made so many promises or fulfilled so few. The Taft-Hartley Act has not been repealed and his civil-rights program has not been put through. His tax proposals, both those he made at the beginning and those he made later when he reversed his position, have been disregarded. His extremely radical farm program has flopped and his sociaization of medicine plan bogged down long ago. It was Senator Taft's housing bill and not Mr. Truman's that went through.

CONGRESS has appropriated great the fish, as one would ride a casums—for example, $120,000,000 extra for the veterans—which he beach. Unfortunately, the swallowed boat had a leaden keel so heavy that it caused the fish he has demanded. His talk about to sink and Liah had to swim to retrenchment has become a joke when weighed against the enormous plans for spending which he adwhich he is dangling before so many special groups. Probably a attempt to make into reality the considerable extension of social hope and ambition that the security which the President is might find such a fish. Thus hast urging will be enacted, but both security which the President is thou proved the ancient claim parties are for that. This record of that fishing doth make liars of failure is really unique—particularly when to it is added his inability to gain confirmation from the Democratic Senate of his close personal friend, ex-Gov. Mon Wallgren of Washington, who is still here, apparently waiting for a recess appointment of some kind.

ONE would think that in such a situation as this Mr. Truman would be discouraged. Certainly, most men would be; but, if he is, there are no visible signs. On the contrary, though the legislative jam is the worst ever seen in Congress. ### FRANKLIN BLANKS 2ND WARD A. C.; GAME ENDS 4 TO 0

Franklin A. C. blanked Second Ward A. C., 4-0, last evening on Memorial Park field to win the first game of the final playoffs of the Bristol Suburban Softball League.

The largest crowd of the season saw "Jim" Brescia whitewash the Second Ward contingent with two hits and at the same time witnessed the fast fielding Franklin complete play after play with touching accuracy. The only error charged to the winners was when Bert Barbetta mistook the umpire for his first-baseman and threw the ball in his direction.

Although it made four tallies, the Franklin team had but two safe hits and were aided by two disastrous miscues on the part of the usnally reliable "Rabbit" Palumbo. Palumbo committed his pair of errors in the fourth and fifth innings. the frames in which Franklin scored their markers.

The mis-plays spoiled a nice pitching performance by "Chick" Stansky. He also permitted two hits and had eight strikeouts to his credit. In the two innings that Franklin scored, it made but one hit.

One was away in the fourth when the trouble started. Stansky could not get the ball over for Frank Barbetta and he walked. On a passed ball. Barbetta went to second. Oriola hit to Palumbo who tossed wild to first, scoring Barbetta and permitting Oriola to make second. Bert Barbetta flied out to right. After the catch, Oriola dashed for third and was rounding third when the throw reached the infield. He darted for the plate and also beat Palumbo's peg there to score a tally. Fields ended the inning by flying

The ultimate winners scored twice again in the fifth. Massi hit to Palumbo who threw low to first. Wallick was given a walk. Capello bunted and neither Palumbo nor Stansky fielded the ball, allowing Massi to score. Ciotti flied out. Wallick and Capello worked the the plate. Both Kervick and Frank fourth in points. Barbetta were easy outs.

made a nice try for Gene Barbetta's whipped up the river. In this parliner but dropped it for a double, ticular race, John Dodds came in Stansky hit to Oriola who threw to second. Barbetta, nipping F. Sagolla at the plate. Leo Fiorelli and Chichiletti failed to produce.

"Toby" Oriola played a fine fielding game for the victors, handling eight chances flawlessly.

The second game of the series will be played Friday evening on final playoffs of the Bristol Indus-Memorial Park field.
